

Slayer of His Raps Smith on Two Sons, Tries To Kill Self

Chisholm Removed to Another Jail to Avert Threatened Mob Violence—Attempts Suicide—Second Confession Relates How He Tricked His Young Sons.

Indiana Harbor, Ind., March 5 (AP).—George Chisholm, who has confessed slaying his two young sons, attempted suicide last night after he had been brought here from the East Chicago jail to avert threatened mob violence.

A belt buckle, the prong of which he used in an effort to pierce his throat, was the weapon Chisholm employed. Police Captain Edward Knight, who had just locked Chisholm in a cell, turned back on a sudden impulse in time to witness the suicide attempt.

"Let me die," the man pleaded.
"I've told you everything. Let me go," he wept hysterically.

A crowd had gathered around the East Chicago jail yesterday when officers decided the prisoner should be removed to prevent violence.

Chisholm, whose confession Saturday night cleared the mystery surrounding the finding of the boys' bodies in the Indiana Harbor ship canal, made a second confession yesterday. In this he related that he had tricked the boys—George, nine, and Edgar, six—February 6 because Mrs.
Helen Lawrence, with whom he lived,
had nagged him about their presence in the household.

The boys' bodies, bound with wire,
were found eight days apart, the first body being recovered February 22.
Chisholm, who is 35 years old, said he would plead guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the court, hoping to win a sentence of life imprisonment instead of electrocution.

Chisholm's last confession, scribbled on a piece of scratch paper, was given without sign of emotion. He said he decided "to drown not only George and Edgar, but Robert, a twin brother of George, promising them they would see their grandmother, who is dead. Chisholm said he persuaded George and Edgar to accompany him to the canal. Robert would not go as he said he did not care to see his grandmother.

Near the canal he tricked his sons into playing cowboy, a game in which both tied each other with heavy wire.
Tying a weight to them, he said he took them to a bridge.

"Then I shoved George into the canal," the father said. "He had hardly hit the water, when Edgar started screaming, and I grabbed him and threw him in backwards."
"I stayed there for about five minutes, thinking I should jump in too.
I got up on a beam of the bridge but my nerve failed me."

LINDBERGH OFF AGAIN,
DESTINATION UNKNOWN

Washington, March 5 (AP).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh with four companions took off from Bolling Field at 10:22 o'clock this morning for an unannounced destination. A broken tail skid had prevented a start at 8:15
a. m.

A new skid was obtained from Hoover Field, Va., across the Potomac river and attached to the cabin monoplane in which the flier arrived here Saturday from New York. The first attempt to take off failed after the plane had traveled about 50 yards.

Harry K. Knight, one of Lindbergh's companions and backers of his transatlantic flight refused to announce their destination, although it was presumed to be St. Louis. Assistant Secretary MacCracken of the commerce department had described the colonel's visit here as of no special significance and merely a stop over on his way back to the Missouri city.

Others making the flight with Lindbergh are Major William B.
Robertson, Harold M. Eixby and B. F.
Mahoney.

Prior to Lindbergh's departure,
Art Goebel, winner of the Dole prize for his flight to Hawaii, left on a flight which ultimately will take him to San Francisco, where plans will be made for his good-will flight to Japan.

WATER PAIL LEADS TO ARREST OF AUTOIST

Sloatsburg, N. Y., March 5 (AP).—A water pail, dangling from the bumper of an automobile, led to the arrest of Henry Rosen, 21, of Liberty, charged with causing the death of a farmer last night.

Rosen was arrested by a state trooper at Monroe after James Canninchman, carrying two pails of water,
had been struck by an automobile.
One of the pails was caught on the bumper and it attracted the attention of the trooper, who had pursued the fleeing car.

Defer Vote on Esch.

Washington, March 5 (AP).—After nearly two hours of discussion, the Senate interstate commerce committee today deferred until tomorrow
a vote on the re-nomination of John J.
Esch, of Wisconsin, to be a member of the interstate commerce commis-

Colonel Roosevelt Declares Governor Is Inconsistent in His Plan For Appointment of Commission to Study Reorganization of Counties.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 5 (AP).— Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in a statement today attacked Governor Alfred E. Smith as "inconsistent" in his plan for appointment of a commission to study the question of reorganization of counties.

"The gorgeous inconsistency of the Governor's position amuses me," he said. "He is surely like the famous Johnny Horrihan—regularly irregular."

In an address Saturday before the New York City Bar Association the Governor declared the system of county government as obsolete and appealed to the bar members to support his plan for reorganization of county government as a preliminary to which he has recommended appointment of a commission to study the situation.

Colonel Roosevelt asserted that "our quarrel with the governor on water power at this time is because we Republicans wish a non-partisan commission of experts to study the problem and recommend a solution.
He wishes to impose an arbitrary plan of his own."

"Now," said Colonel Roosevelt,
"he comes out and recommends that commissions be established to study the government of the counties and advise on counties' problems."

"What holds true with the counties should hold true with water power, but the Governor will not admit it for he believes that through water power he may obtain a political advantage and therefore does not want a non-partisan solution for the good of all the people."

"As for our government in Nassau,
I feel confident that any non-partisan commission would report that the people were well served and satisfied."

Smith Answers Col. Roosevelt

Albany, N. Y., Mar. 5 (AP).—"The young fellow's mind doesn't coordinate," Governor Smith declared today when informed that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, his opponent in the gubernatorial campaign of 1924, had attacked him for the recommendation made in a New York address Saturday, that the question of county government reorganization be studied by a non-partisan commission.

"Study of the waterpower and of county government reorganization are not at all analogous," the governor said. "One is a pure business proposition and the other political.
I have no arbitrary plan for solution of the waterpower question. What I suggest—setting up of a state waterpower authority—is precisely similar to the setting up of a port of New York Authority, to which the members of the colonel's own party agreed, and which is now in operation."

"We have been studying the waterpower question for years—in fact,
the Republicans studied it so thoroughly that not so long ago they were all ready to lease the power resources of the state to private interests. County government never has been studied. It is possible that investigation would show that the people were against it, but that is not for us to say before we have gone into the question."

"Democracy is a fine thing, but it's terrible when you have got to carry along with it such people as the young colonel, never in accord with anything that is suggested."

Paid Firemen's Souvenir Book

H. B. Pierce and C. E. Neville, representing the New York State Permanent Firemen's Association, of which all of the paid firemen of the Kingston fire department are members, are in Kingston assisting the local paid firemen in compiling a souvenir history of the fire department of Kingston. The book will be beautifully illustrated with pictures of the members of the paid fire department, scenes from some of the large fires in the city, and will also contain a history of the fire department from its inception in 1754 to the present day. At the request of the members of the fire department the history is being compiled by a local newspaper man.

INFANT MORTALITY VERY LOW IN NEW YORK

One of the most gratifying facts of the 1922 health record in the State of New York is the very low infant mortality. The number of deaths under one year was a thousand less than the year before and the rate of infant mortality—5.9 per 1,000 live births—has never been lower. The drop from the rate of 1925 was the greatest registered in any one year.
Deaths under one year now represent only 9.5 per cent of the total mortality in the state; ten years ago the corresponding proportion equaled 15 per cent, while in 1907 one in five deaths was that of an infant.

Great Lakes Hearing April 23.

Washington, March 5 (AP).—Cases brought by Great Lakes states to the United States Supreme Court today from diverting water from Lake Michigan today were set for hearing on April 23 by the supreme court.

Murdered After Winning $75,000

Gambler Found Dying in Gutter With Pockets Empty—Had Conducted at One Time Night Gambling Houses in Brooklyn.

New York, March 5 (AP).—John Henry (Scarface) Spencer, whose nod was good for thousands of dollars where the big gamblers lay their bets,
was found dying in a gutter in Brooklyn yesterday, his last big game believed to have led to his murder.

But a few hours before, police said, he had left a "floating crap game," so-called because its location is changed each night and to which only the big players gain access, with $75,000—his night's winnings. His pockets were empty and his diamond ring, stickpin and watch had been stripped from him when he was found. He died on the way to the hospital.

"Scarface," his nickname descriptive of a livid mark on his face, which resulted from a horrid accident, was known wherever the horses
run and the big gamblers gather.

He was 28 years old, married, and had a five-year-old son.
For fifteen years he had been known to police as a player and proprietor of gambling houses. During that period he had been arrested thirteen times, police records show, but in only one instance was a case made against him. This was in 1913, when he was sentenced to six months on Blackwell's Island for carrying concealed weapons. He also paid a fine of $50 in Springfield, Mass., 1915, for gambling.

At one time he had eight gambling houses running in the Borough Hill section of Brooklyn, patronized by prominent business men and politicians, and police say he won a court fight to restrain them from posting a policeman on the premises of his clubs. The court action followed a raid ordered by Police Commissioner George V.
McLaughlin, who had been told that in ten months Spencer and his assistants had divided $900,000 in profits from the one house.

Although police at first believed he had died from the effects of blows on the head, an assistant medical examiner later stated that only two superficial scalp wounds were found and expressed the view that death had been caused by poison.

MURDERS HIS WIFE BELIEVES HE DID RIGHT

Seranton, Pa., Mar. 5 (AP).—Of the opinion that Russell P. McGarrath, 35, who murdered his wife, Dorothy, 28, after he had come home from teaching his Sunday-school class in the Asbury Methodist Church, is insane, police today planned to have a lunacy commission examine the slayer soon after he is arraigned on a charge of murder.

"I feel that I did right; I did as my conscience told me," McGarrath replied when asked why he had killed his wife.
McGarrath told officers that he never quarreled with his wife but said he was afraid she was plotting to kill him. When he returned from Sunday school, he was frightened when he saw a piece of rope in his wife's room, he declared.

"I thought she was going to kill me then, so when she turned her back I got the bread knife and stabbed her," McGarrath stated.
Mrs. McGarrath was slashed from ear to ear. Her husband sat around his home five hours before he went to the Asbury parsonage and informed the Rev. W. W. Nicholson of the crime. The minister notified police.

A five year old son of the Mc-Garraths was visiting an aunt at the time of the murder.

SCHERER INTERESTED IN VEHICULAR TUNNELS

Joseph J. Scherer of Connelly motored to points of interest in New Jersey and New York city over the week end and was the guest of Fred Septon and Mr. McNeil of Jersey City. The trip was enjoyed very much by Mr. Scherer. He motored through the new Holland vehicular tunnels and found much to interest him as he is a contractor and builder. He considers the tunnel one of the most wonderful pieces of workmanship ever conceived by man.
While passing through the tunnels,
which are two miles long, motorists are not allowed to smoke. The toll charge for using the tunnels is 50 cents. Mr. Scherer says that motorists who have the opportunity to inspect the tunnels and fail to inspect them is a great deal. Mr. Scherer and family motored to Albany on Friday on a business trip.

FRENCH AIRMAN ILL TAKE-OFF POSTPONED

Detroit, Mich., March 5 (AP).—Because Dieudonne Costes, French airman, was slightly ill, his companion, Joseph Lebrun, said they probably would remain guests of Detroit today, postponing their scheduled take-off for Chicago until tomorrow.
The fliers landed their plane
"Nungesser-Collé" yesterday after a stormy trip from Sharpville, Pa., where they were forced down on a trip from New York. Last night they were guests of the Detroit Board of Commerce at an informal dinner.
Costes's illness was of a minor nature, a physician reported, but he said that he had advised the flier it would be best if he remained in Detroit for a day.

COWARD DIES OF ACUTE INDIGESTION

New York, Mar. 5 (AP).—J. Morti-mer Coward, 28, president and sole proprietor of the two Coward shoe stores in New York, died of acute indigestion in Havana last night.
He became head of the Coward

December, 1922.

Broadway. Both men and women voters are entitled to attend these meetings of the Common Council and understand for themselves how our city is officially operated.

Hopes for Peaceful Solution.
New York, March 5 (AP).—Hopes that conversations with the Van Sweringen interests will result in a peaceful solution of the eastern trunk line railway controversy was expressed by Leonard F. Lorce, president of the Delaware and Hudson and sponsor of a fifth trunk line plan, on his return from San Francisco today.

Home Made Plane Crashes, Five Die

Airplane Was Deemed Not Airworthy and Pilot Decried Inexperienced—Recruits Passengers From Crowd
on Field.

San Diego, Cal., March 5 (AP).—A homemade airplane, and a novice but incompetent pilot today were blamed for the worst aerial disaster in the history of flying here.

Five men were killed, including the pilot, when the plane stalled and nose dived 300 feet to earth yesterday in giving the right of way to a huge air liner about to make a landing.

The dead:
W. W. Bird, pilot and builder of the plane.
Ralph Craig.
Chester H. Kidwell.
Clifford Dill.
Irving Thomas.

All were residents of the San Diego district except Thomas, who is believed to have come from Brooklyn and Kelly Fields, Texas.

The plane left the airport against the orders of the city air control board, which previously had refused Bird a pilot's license on the ground that he was inexperienced. The board also had ordered that the plane be not allowed to go up because it had been deemed not airworthy.

Bird's four passengers were recruited from a crowd at the field.
They were warned not to go with Bird but insisted on "taking a chance."

Airman who witnessed the takeoff said the plane stalled badly as it rose from the ground, indicating that it was overloaded or not properly balanced. It made a short flight to Camp Kearney, nearby and was returning when the accident occurred.

The Bird plane was in the path of the air liner, which airport officials said, was entitled to the right of way. In turning out of the larger plane's path the Bird machine tip-pled, stalled and plunged.

The 220-horsepower engine telescoped back through the frame work of the machine and into the passenger compartment as it dived into the earth, crushing the four men. Craig was the only one alive when airport attendants reached the wreck. He died in a few minutes.

TOUCH MURDER STILL FAR FROM SOLUTION

New York, March 5 (AP).—A statement from police that they had no evidence connecting "Doc" Louis A.
Clement with the killing of Miss Margaret Brown, New York governess, apparently left the New Jersey torch murder as far from solution today as it was two weeks ago. The woman, her clothes ablaze, was found dying near Bernardsville, N. J., the night of February 20.

An appeal to Clement was issued by Deputy Inspector Arthur A. Carey to surrender after receipt of a letter by the New York World, which police believe to be genuine and in which Clement said he was hiding because he had no funds to hire a lawyer to protect him.

Deputy Inspector Carey promised Clement "a square deal" and said they had no evidence connecting him with the slaying.

Karl Armgaard Graves, called "the kaiser's personal spy," also has been eliminated from the case. Newspapers had attempted to identify him as Clement, but a comparison of the court records of the two men shows that Graves was in Leavenworth prison in 1918 at the time Clement was arrested here on the charge of obtaining money in a gasoline substitute scheme. This indictment later was quashed.

DRUNKS FINED $5 EACH; WOODSTOCK MAN FORFEITS BAIL

Delos Eckert, a farmer at West Shokan, came to Kingston on Saturday and sampled some of the wet goods disposed of on North Front street with the result that he was picked up by the police for public intoxication. The same experience befell one Thomas Mack of Phoenicia. Both men were fined $5 and the payment of the fine was suspended pending good behavior.

Perry Russell, 29, of Woodstock, kicked up a rumpus Saturday night in the chop suey restaurant on Wall street, and was placed under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct.
This morning in police court he failed to appear to answer to the charge and his cash bail of $19 was forfeited.

BEAT UP YOUNG WOMAN CASTOR IS FINED $25

While James Castor, 23, of 7
Washington avenue, was escorting a young woman home late Saturday night he suddenly struck her in the face with his fist, which led to his being placed under arrest on a charge of assault in the third degree.
The arrest was made by Policeman Reardon. This morning in police court the young man pleaded guilty to the charge and advanced no reason for striking the girl. Judge Shufeldt imposed a fine of $25 which Castor paid.

Ambulance Calls Here.

The city ambulance on Saturday removed Joseph Henderson from 45
Murray street to the City of Kingston Hospital; Mrs. Stanley Lyons from the City of Kingston Hospital to her home 25 Gill street, and Mrs. Joseph line Nacarrato from the Benedictine Hospital to her home, 8 North street.

Judge Clearwater's Reply to Senator Wicks

Accepts Invitation to Expand and Elaborate
His Objections to the New York City Plans and to Senator Wicks's Bill Authorizing Their Carrying Out.

Judge Clearwater accepts the invitation contained in the letter of Senator Wicks to further state his objection to the city's plan in the following letter:

March 5, 1923
To Honorable Arthur H. Wicks, senator, Chamber, Albany, N. Y.
My Dear Senator:

I am unwilling to denigrate the consideration of the wisdom of a great and controlling legislative enactment however, and intricately involving the interests of a vast number of people, and the plans of the greatest city of the world, including an expenditure of approximately five hundred million dollars by an arduous and trivial discussion with you. Therefore, I shall not here take up the inaccuracy of your letter to me of the 2nd instant. It is sufficient now to say that as you well know, I never saw or heard of your bill printing these enormous privileges to the city of New York until subsequent to its completion, and that I was not, nor were any of the interests I represent,
to the slightest extent consulted as to its preparation or provisions.

Immediately after I saw it, I wrote you of my disapproval and requested
you not to advance it in the Legislature until my clients were afforded an opportunity to examine and determine to what extent it affected their activities. This involved not only an examination of the language of your bill of all existing statutes and many court decisions, but of the plans filed by the city with the Board of Water Control. As soon as this was completed, I sent you my proposed amendments. You acknowledged their receipt and wrote me that you would spend the end of last week in Kingston, would come and see me and endeavor to arrange an agreement which would put the bill in shape so that its provisions would not result in irreparable injury to anyone affected.
Although you were in Kingston at that time, and visited offices on the same floor of the same building in which mine are situated, you did not keep that promise, and I have not seen you.

I pass without comment your slighting allusion to the corporations
I represent, save to say, whatever may be their faults, they furnish constant employment at a satisfactory wage to a large number of men and women, and render a valuable public service. My objections to your bill, after having presented to you, and of course through you to the Legislature, were presented to the Board of Water Control, which as you should but apparently do not know, is the tribunal created by the Legislature to hear and consider them. It is with pleasure I accept your somewhat acerbic invitation to suggest amendments to your bill other than those immediately relating to my clients.

1st. As the people of your district forever will be deprived of the use and benefit of the streams diverted and their diversion greatly will enrich the City of New York, it is my judgment that ordinary justice aside from considerations of decency require that the City should make some reparation and compensation for their eternal diversion; that it should bear the expense of the chance of all roads, bridges and transmission lines;
that it should construct and always maintain all needed roads, bridges and sewage disposal systems and relieve all counties, towns, villages, hamlets and individuals from any present or future expense regarding them, wherever chances in existing conditions are made necessary by the activities of the City.

2nd. Your bill inevitably will stagnerate development in the whole region affected by it because it is notice to the world that the City at any time in the near or remote future which it may select, may devastate any portion of the region covered by its plans and seize lands, buildings and thus ruin business. The bill should provide a reasonable time within which the City may exercise the tremendous powers conferred by your bill upon it, that it not withstand that time expired, the right to exercise it should cease and should not be renewed within at least one generation.

3rd. Your bill confines the right to apply for the appointment of Commissioners of Appraisal of Land-seized and business raised to the Corporation Counsel of the City of New York. It should provide that any person, corporation or institution, injuriously affected so might apply and that Commissioners should not be reappointed save to complete unfinished work. The experience in Ashtoken and Gluba has demonstrated the need of this provision. Also it has demonstrated that the majority of commissioners have felt they owed their jobs to the City of New York and acted accordingly in the hope and expectation of being reappointed.

4th. Your bill should provide that when a claimant appeals either to the Appellate Division or the Court of Appeals, the cost of printing of the papers on the appeal should be borne by the City. It has been my experience that rarely has the Special Term sustained an

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

NO DANGER OF FAMINE IN FURS

Trappers Believe Mankind's Oldest Industry Will Last as Long as Man.

Olympia, Wash.—The almost universal use of furs has led newspapers and magazines to predict a speedy end to wild life supplying pelts; but those who are familiar with regions where come the skins believe the oldest industry of mankind will last as long as mankind does. Buffalo were nearly exterminated when small herds were segregated in national parks; leaver were on the vane when game laws came to their support; sea otter had entirely disappeared and congress hastened a closed period on this fur bearer and what might have happened to the fur seals in the north Pacific but for the international protectorate against pelagic whaling.

Beaver Colonies Elsewhere. But look at the results today. Buffalo have multiplied from a few hundreds to many thousands, both in the United States and Canada. Beaver colonies are everywhere in their secluded haunts and near civilization are becoming something of a nuisance. Sea otter are reported numerous among the islands of the Aleutian archipelago and in a few years will again vie for a place at fur auctions, while the Alaskan fur seal herd has come back to stay. The seals which had dwindled to about a hundred thousand now number close to a million in spite of the annual crop of about thirty thousand.

All fur markets are amply supplied with pelts of mink, muskrat, skunk, raccoon, fox and otter and as fast as man encroaches on their domain the more rapid is the increase of the little animals. More abundant food supply makes it easier to rear large litters. A few years ago a prominent New York fur trader predicted fur farms would not succeed. But today there are 600 fur farms in the United States and nearly as many in Canada, while over 300 islands along Alaska's coast are sites of farms, with blue fox, mink, marten and muskrat flourishing.

Plenty of Open Spaces. There are immense areas unfit for human habitation and in this never-to-be-redeemed region wild life of many species abounds and always will. Trappers work with the idea of leaving enough breeders for future crops. Even Indian trappers are natural conservationists and lift their traps when signs show certain fur bearers are getting fewer.

In Alaska white men have been destroying wolves and coyotes, natural enemies of rabbits and mice. Every time a wolf bites the dust, declares one trapper, enough rabbits are saved to rear three litters of foxes or ten litters of marten. This winter furs continue to come from collecting posts in Alaska in as great a volume as any past year, but quality of the pelts is better. Trappers have learned to wait patiently until winter's blasts have darkened and thickened the furry coats before baiting traps. Thus fewer furs have higher values.

There is little danger, the trappers say, of furs declining for some time. The fur islands are sending to market more skins each year. Natural habitats of fur bearers are being farmed by intelligent trappers and game laws are doing marvels in harboring wild life in sanctuaries where climate and swamp forbid the advance of civilization.

Champagne Island Is Sinking Into Sea

North Wildwood, N. J.—Swept by swirling currents, Champagne Island, once proposed as a site for an American Lido, is slowly sinking, as elusive as the bubbles of the wine with which its mysterious rising from the sea was celebrated a score of years ago.

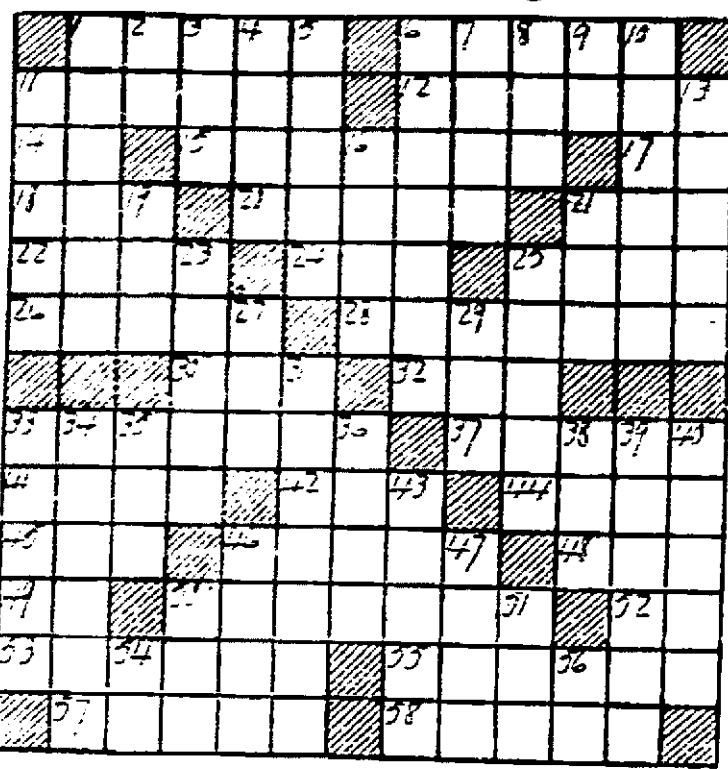

This was revealed recently by a survey which has led engineers to believe that the isle may later resurface off North Wildwood and thus necessitate recourse to riparian laws two centuries and a half old to determine new ownership.

The island received its name through the quantity of wine opened when it made its appearance and title was obtained by Charles Mace. A few years later it was purchased by William Goldstein of Philadelphia, who envisioned the stretch of rapidly forming sand dunes as a colorful setting for lagoons and canals over which gondolas might glide, with a great casino in the center.

1927 PARTY ENROLLMENT LIGHTER THAN IN 1926

Albany, March 5.—Complete enrollment figures received by Secretary of State Robert Moses from boards of elections throughout the state show that a total of 2,322,392 persons enrolled last year and are accordingly entitled to vote at both the spring and fall primaries this year. The spring primary is scheduled for April 3, and the fall primary for September 18. The total enrollment shows a decrease of 24,774 from that of the fall of 1926, due primarily, to the fact that last year was what is generally known politically, as an off year.

The total Democratic enrollment last fall was 1,325,821 as compared with 1,344,574 in 1926. The Republicans enrolled 1,478,822 last fall as against 1,483,780 the previous year. The Socialist enrollment last fall amounted to 18,249 as compared with 19,312 the year before. In the fall of 1925 the Democrats enrolled 1,246,339; the Republicans enrolling 1,451,175 and the Socialists 19,099.

A comparison by counties between the enrollment figures of last fall with those of the previous year shows that the Democrats and Republicans secured enrollment gains in 27 counties in the state and losses in 15 counties.

In addition to the counties in which both parties showed enrollment gains, the Democratic party increased its enrollment in eight counties, these being Albany, Caroga, Montgomery, Otsego, Queens, Rensselaer, Seneca and Wayne. The Republicans gained in nine additional counties, these being Broome, Cortland, Erie, Lewis, Nassau, Onondaga, Orange, Schenectady and Yates.

EXEMPLICATION OF K. OF C. FOURTH DEGREE

An event of considerable interest to the members of the Knights of Columbus in Kingston is the announcement of the grand exemplification of the Fourth Degree which will take place in Albany on May 13. The conferring of this degree always attracts a large number of members from this section who go to the capital city to witness the conferring of the degree. It has been some time since the degree was exemplified and by reason of such it is expected that it will be one of the largest classes of candidates ever advanced to the highest degree of the order. It is also expected that the newly elected Supreme Knight, Martin J. Carmody, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, will make an official visit to Albany for the purpose of greeting the Knights of the capital district, as well as to address the members at the banquet which will follow at the Ten Eyck Hotel after the degree. The members of Kingston Assembly it is expected will meet shortly to make arrangements for their members and candidates to visit Albany on that day for the purpose of taking part in this patriotic degree.

Income Tax in a Nutshell

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS.

No. 19.

With a certain proviso, compensation paid by a State or political subdivision thereof, such as a county or city, to its officers and employees is not taxable income. The proviso is that the wages of such officers and employees must be rendered in connection with the "essential governmental functions of the State or political subdivision" as distinguished from its proprietary functions. The salaries of the governor of a State, mayor, of a city councilman, board of aldermen, public-school teachers and policemen and firemen are not taxable. But the compensation received by employees of waterworks owned and operated by a municipality or of a municipally owned and operated street railway is taxable, for the reason that they are engaged in the activities of a State which are not governmental. Fees for special services to a State are taxable, as, for example, compensation paid architects and builders for planning and erecting a State capitol or other State or municipal building. An officer or employee of a State, for the purpose of the income tax law, is one whose services are continuous and not occasional or temporary.

ATTEND MOOSEHEART BANQUET IN NEW YORK

Helen Kaslich, senior regent and Katherine Hauck, junior regent of Women of Mooseheart Legion, Chapter 555, have returned from New York city where they attended a banquet given by the New York Assembly in honor of Katherine Smith, grand recorder of Women of Mooseheart Legion, of Mooseheart, Illinois. There were thirty-two chapters represented by five hundred delegates. The banquet was held at the club rooms of New York Lodge, No. 15, 985 8th avenue.

P. A. Shanor, organizer of Lodge No. 15, the first speaker, gave a wonderful talk on the work of Deputy Grand Regent Ida Geer Weller and what she is doing for the New York Assembly. The talk was unusually interesting because Mr. Shanor was the only man among 500 ladies. Katherine Smith, next speaker, gave a very impressive talk about Mooseheart and Moosehaven and the work being done there by Moose-don.

Among those present were: Jane Jennings, mother of New York Lodge; Ida Geer Weller, who saw that every body was well taken care of and in doing this she stamped herself as an extraordinary hostess. The decorations consisted of red, white and blue bunting; the table decorations were pink and white.

Kingston Chapter, 555, was honored by having their delegates, Helen Kaslich and Katherine Hauck, seated at the speakers' table. All the delegates were dressed in white, making a very beautiful picture.

New Plan to Settle Strike

New York, March 5 (AP).—As New York city's threatened transit strike neared a crisis today, a new plan said to be favored by Mayor Walker, to take a secret vote of the 15,000 workers on their union preference, was up for consideration.

The workers, under the suggestion, would be asked to say which labor organization they favored, the A. F. of L. body, the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, or the International Rapid Transit Brotherhood, the so-called company union. The Amalgamated claims an 80 per cent membership while the company denies it is more than ten per cent.

The Amalgamated has proposed that the Interborough submit the case of the 21 suspended union men to a board headed by Mayor Walker. The company is expected to refuse this proposal, as it has already offered to have the case reviewed by its legal department. It was unofficially said in city hall circles that the preference voting plan would then be put forward.

A union meeting has been called for Tuesday at 8 p. m., two hours after the time limit it has set for the company to accept its proposal for arbitration.

One hundred and fifteen miles of the city subway and elevated lines would be affected by a strike.

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

"What are the old people wearing these days?" is the question.

Grace J. Austin.

The human mind logically likes to expect like a pendulum, so since Dame Fashion lately put all her thought on the smallest size of new baby it was tightly natural to turn to the other end of the scale.

But at once an obstacle presented itself. The first clothing distributor to whom Dame Fashion put her question about old people didn't even stop to draw a breath and answered with lightning promptness:

"There aren't any."

Then he went on to elucidate, to the effect that men of far beyond what are termed "mature years" will desire the same kind of garments which please the newest university freshman. Dame Fashion remembered at once the grandmother who was bitterly offended because she was presented a fancy back comb, with a shell foundation colored gray. Then she knew of another cheerful young woman of ninety years who went into a shop and demanded "pumps with spike heels"—and took them, too!

All at once Dame Fashion fished out from her subconscious mind the determination she made the other day certainly to be the owner some day of some bright gold slippers—without waiting to go to heaven for them. In accord with the old "spiritual" we used to sing, long before anybody knew it was a "spiritual."

Now don't you suppose a lot of this gay dressing has resulted from the modern talk about the "danger of suppressed desires"? Elderly people who have always wanted certain things are now bound to have them.

Dame Fashion used to have the acquaintance of a delightful woman, considerably over ninety, who for years was so economical that she said she usually waved her hands in the air to dry them after washing, to save towel use. Yet in her oldest old age she bloomed out with black silk dresses and diamond rings.

And after all, what good taste she had! Black silk, black crepe, black chiffon, all are highly effective for the mature woman, just as they are brilliantly becoming to the young and blooming—though thanks to the modern appreciation of facial art and general acceptance of its aid, we may all "bloom" in these days.

Also if we cannot have as many diamonds as we wish, we can be thankful for the pleasant glow and glitter from rhinestones. Hardly a black dress in these days is complete without its shining buckle at the side and its cluster of gleams on the shoulder. It never pays to be too sure of anything, even that two and two make four. She has written "satin-backed crepe" many times and only learned this week that the manufacturers spend altogether too much in gaining that wonderful sheen to make a "back" out of it. The true name is "satin-faced crepe" or "crepe backed" satin—you may take your choice. When you think of it, it actually seems funny that so many beautiful gowns have been made up wrong side out!

To Burn Wood Slowly

When wood is impregnated with an iron salt it will carry fire more readily, but will not break into flame—that is, it acts more nearly like punk in that it continues to glow for long periods of time. There is also a possibility that the impregnation of wood with a solution of sodium nitrate might be helpful, although in this case the wood would be more apt to clinder than to break into flame.

RACE PRIDE UNIVERSAL

Writing of a recent novel by Claude McKay, a Harlem (N. Y.) negro, Heywood Brown, New York World "columnist," touches upon a fact little realized in the dominant white nations of the world—the fact that the dark, under races are not troubled in the least by any sort of "inferiority complex" and in their hearts look down on the whites no less contemptuously than the whites look down on them. Says Mr. Brown:

Nothing in this fine novel served to shock me, but I must admit that out of it I took some terror. Few negroes have written down so clearly their contempt for all things white. McKay writes of his hero Jake and says, "He preferred white folks' hatred to their friendly contempt. To feel their hatred made him feel strong and aggressive, while their friendly contempt made him feel weak and inferior." Jake is too robustly drawn to have been fashioned from thin air. Without doubt he does express the point of view of many of his race, and his contempt for the "fafs" is actual and authentic. When Jake has reason to suspect that Rose has betrayed him with a white man he feels no anger. He feels that no one from across the race line could possibly be a serious rival. And all the Harlem folk have the same pride and confidence in their physical strength and prowess. The culture of the white man seems poor, thin stuff, and his pretensions to superiority the mere jealousy of the weakling.

Sir Rider Haggard found all this out in Africa many years ago. In one of his novels he pictures a white man and a negro brought near together, each disgusted at sight of the other and each contemptuously intolerant of the distinctive odor of the other. It is only human, perhaps, for every race to hold firm faith in its own superiority.

SURPRISING "NEWS."

The editor of the Baptist Messenger of Oklahoma City was so disturbed by the report that Senator Robinson of Arkansas had endorsed Governor Smith as a Democratic Presidential candidate that, in his indignation and alarm, he ventured (as quoted by the New York Times) to express himself as follows: "Think of the present status of affairs within the Democratic party. Their convention is to be held in Houston, Texas, a Baptist and Protestant city and State. Senator Robinson, the leader of the Democratic party in Congress, and a representative of Baptist and Protestant Arkansas, endorsing 'Al' Smith. What shall be the outcome? I do not believe Baptists can be handed to their traditional enemies that would burn them at the stake and destroy their homes and liberty if it was in their power to do so. Catholics in Italy today are preaching that heretics ought to be put to death."

The news conveyed in the last sentence is of the kind that skeptical editorial writers describe as "important if true." If any Catholics in Italy or elsewhere are doing any such "preaching" at present, it is remarkable that nobody but the editor quoted above has heard of it. It is quite probable, in fact, that even he has not heard of it, and that, in his excitement, he has brought up or down to date a bit of his vague recollection of something he once read about the bloody goings-on of fanatical King Philip II of Spain and his Inquisition nearly 400 years ago. What the present Catholics of Italy have actually heard of, and doubtless marveled at, is that 300-per-cent American Ku Kluxers in too many of our States frequently flog and sometimes tar-and-feather persons of whom they disapprove.

LOBBY REGULATION.

Webster defines lobbyists as "persons not members of a legislative body who strive to influence its proceedings by personal agency whether in the lobby or elsewhere." Even before the system became extensive "lobbying" had achieved a sinister connotation in consequence of many rumors that the "personal agency" too often included the offer and possibly the acceptance of large sums of money. Doubtless it was this widespread impression that led to the New York State law requiring paid lobbyists to register their own and their employers' names with the legislature. It seems that at first

Many New Corporations

Of the Making of New Corporations There is No End—Culture and Attention Companies Show Great Increase—Three New Companies in Ulster County.

Albany, Mar. 5.—If the business now being done through the corporation bureau in the Department of State here can be taken as any criterion of future business activities, there appears to be little foundation in the assertion of approaching hard times. Substantially capitalized, companies are incorporating in New York state in record breaking numbers these days. The first two months this year have witnessed 1,949 stock companies incorporating or 420 more than during the first two months last year. Last month alone ran 271 companies ahead of the same month in 1927, and what is more to the point last month was the biggest in three years in the incorporation of companies engaging in the manufacture of iron and steel goods. A new record for a single day's business was hung up last month when 134 companies received charters.

As the state grows there are more mouths to feed, and this probably becomes the reason for the steadily increasing number of cafeterias incorporating. Increased interest in aviation generally is bringing a corresponding increase in the incorporation of airports and airlines. More than one company, engaging in this or that line of business, incorporated last month with a capitalization of a million dollars or more.

MODENA.

Relatives and friends from Modena and other places attended the funeral of George Mackey at his late home Wednesday afternoon. Military rites were rendered by World War Veterans, as Mr. Mackey was a veteran of the Civil War.

The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Ellsworth E. Miller Thursday afternoon of last week, when plans were made for an all day carpet rag bee to be held at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall Thursday, March 8. Lunch will be served at noon. The members present at the meeting were: Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, Jr., Mrs. Oscar Smith, Mrs. Frank Black, Mrs. Wygant Courter, Mrs. Orville Seymour, Mrs. Emory Conklin, Mrs. George Dunsberger, Mrs. Rufus Jenkins, Mrs. Ward Black and daughter, Doris, Mrs. Hallock Harris, Mrs. Myron Shultz and the hostess, Mrs. Ellsworth Miller.

George Ackerman, who had the misfortune to break his leg some time ago, was taken to St. Luke's Hospital at Newburgh Thursday when an X-ray was taken of the broken bone, which was set Friday.

Mrs. Ransel J. Wager and son, Harold, of Poughkeepsie spent a few days of the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wager. During this time Ransel J. Wager attended a banquet at Albany, N. Y., at which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was the guest of honor. Mr. Wager was a representative of the Poughkeepsie branch of the International Harvester Company.

Miss Leah Roosa has been visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Degroot at Lake Osiris. Mr. and Mrs. William Hartney are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hartney and family of Elizabeth, N. J., at their home.

CHEST CLINICS TO BE HELD IN ULSTER COUNTY.

Every community has a responsibility in furthering the local success of the nation wide campaign for the early diagnosis of tuberculosis. As a part of this campaign Miss Lillian B. Hagelweide, R. N., Ulster County Tuberculosis Nurse, is co-operating with the local health officers in endeavoring to schedule three consultation clinics for diseases of the lungs, and if her plans materialize these clinics will be held in convenient places in the county.

The State Department of Health has expressed a willingness to co-operate to the extent of furnishing the services of two expert examiners and X-ray outfit with operator (if dates do not conflict with those of other counties).

When arrangements are completed newspaper notices giving dates, places and hours of the clinics will be printed and physicians in the localities covered will be given admission cards for patients they may wish to refer. They will also be provided with additional information which will be of help in advising their patients about attending the clinics.

ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions

White Predicted for Summer—Black Prominent in Spring Collections, Especially as Background for Color—Many Bright Prints Appear.

Paris—Spring has come to the windows, as well as to the interiors of shops devoted to all the things that go to make the modern woman a joy to behold. The secrets of the French couture have been revealed, in Paris, at least, and now all that is necessary to make the picture complete, is the entrance of spring itself. Not that women await her pleasure in appearing; they go forth to meet her more than half way, clad in appropriate garments.

First of all, there are sports clothes to consider, the vast majority of the grand maisons in Paris devoting the greater part of their exhibitions to this type of costume. One finds justification in predicting a white season, for midsummer; white as a background color, to replace black which was, and is, and sometimes one is almost led to believe over more will be, first in the world of chic.

Black is toned down, or rather up, in the spring collections. It still appears as a background for the many bright prints that will make joyous the coming season. Black with color, such as bright green, registers as exceedingly worth while, and the black hat, most flattering of all to the average woman, together with the opposite pole of black shoes, gives the required dash to the most approved costume.

This idea of making either black or white the basic note rather simplifies dressing, certainly makes for economy in the matter of accessories, which daily becomes a more important consideration. One has learned to expect both smart jewelry and smart perfumes at the haute couture.

BODY ODOR...why we can't tell when we offend

BODY odor always betrays—but seldom warns its victim.

You know yourself that though you notice instantly the faintest hint of odor in others—the guilty ones usually remain unaware of giving offense.

Why? Simply because once an odor becomes familiar to us, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it. Very often, this misleads even fastidious people into thinking they are safe—while actually they do offend.

Isn't it just as possible, then, that at times we, too, may offend others—without knowing it?

Body odor plays no favorites

No one is safe from body odor. To live, we must perspire. And in cooler weather—with activities indoors, in warm, stuffy rooms—body odor is more prevalent than ever.

On coolest days, our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

This body moisture, whether visible or invisible, is always odorous. And no one escapes it. All of us—no matter what our position or occupation in life—may offend unless we take precautions.

No need to risk embarrassment

Yet there is a simple way to be sure we're safe from body odor. Just wash and bathe often with the delightful toilet soap that millions enjoy—Lifebuoy—it disinfects.

The same mild and abundant antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores.

For complexions, too, this gentle Lifebuoy lather is marvelously beneficial. It keeps skins clear and satin-smooth.

In millions of homes, Lifebuoy is used for every toilet purpose.

WINTER CONSERVES

MOST of the most appetizing preserves may be prepared in the winter, a glass or two at a time.

Marmalade Marmalade

Take one medium-sized pineapple or one large can, three oranges, one and one-half pints of water, four cupsful of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of bleached almonds. Wash the oranges and cut into small pieces, removing the seeds; let stand in the water over night, cook until tender, then add the pineapple; simmer for twenty minutes if the pineapple is fresh, add the sugar, and cook half an hour, adding the nuts ten minutes before it has cooked the required time.

Spiced Prune Marmalade

Take one-half pound each of dried prunes, peaches and apricots. Soak and simmer until very tender; then put through a sieve. Grate the peel from an orange, add the juice and one-half pound of seeded raisins, one and one-fourth pounds of sugar and one-quarter cupful of nutmegs. Chop or cut fine the nut meats and simmer all together until rich and thick. The mixture may be cooked for ten minutes before adding the sugar. Cook carefully as it burns very easily.

Apple Butter With Raisins

Pare and slice six tart apples and wash and seed large raisins, using one-half pound; chop them, adding one-fourth pound of nuts also chopped. Mix all the ingredients and place over the fire with just enough water to keep from burning; cook slowly for three-quarters of an hour, then add one pound of brown sugar and cook until thick. Put into glasses and seal.

When oranges are cheap is the time to make marmalade. At this time of the year usually citrus fruits are cheapest.

Cranberry Relish

Take two cupsful of cranberries, put through the medium grinder, add two cupsful of apples put through the coarse grinder, and one-fourth cupful of pecans cut with a knife. Let stand two or three days in a cold place before using.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Rubberized crepe de chine and Waterproof Velvet Give Color to Rainy Days.

Paris—Remembering that April showers bring May flowers, brings also to mind, to the practical at least, that showers, whether in April or not, are a justification for the raincoat, which has become a very necessary thing.

Rubberized crepe de chine heads the list of acceptable materials, which run the gamut of colorings and may be either plain or printed. There are even models in fabrics that have a leather finish, such as gazelle, if not actually of leather; and there are still models of snake and other skins that are worn as a protection against the elements.

The most popular raincoat of Paris is the trench coat, but in all collections there is some recognition of the need for a protective type of coat for the rainy days that are bound to come. In one or two cases,

Fine Tucking, Closely Spaced, Is Used in This Coat after Paquin, Fashioned of Navy Blue, Slightly Brushed Tweed. Circular Cuts at the Sides and Back Contribute Fullness. Gray Coney Provides a Short Collar, and a Second Contrasting Note is Introduced Through Slender Insets of Red Cloth in the Revers.

the raincoat has the effect of a suit, and in such a model from Rivolia a waterproof velvet is used.

Waterproof crepe de chine trimmed with suede is another of the season's novelties, and in such an instance a color contrast is insisted upon. Patch pockets, trimmed with crepe de chine, cuffs, and an adjustable collar, all make use of suede, while the belt, without which no raincoat is complete—nor, for that matter, any other type of costume—is also of suede, and narrow, as is the usual way of belts at the moment. French raincoats have formed the effective habit of being completed by hats of self fabric.

THE BUMPS

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I've had my bumps
The same as you,
The same as other
People do.
Yet when we do,
And when it's done,
We think that we're
The only one.

But folks before
Have had that bump,
And other cars
Have hit that stump;
Yet, if we lived
Like fellowmen,
No car would hit
That stump again.

What you and I
And all should do
Is not complain
And just boo-hoo,
But get right down,
When bumps we hit,
And smooth the road
A little bit.

Yes, if we didn't Cry about
The bumps, but stopped
And smoothed them out,
Life's hardest road
Would soon be free
Of bumps for them
And you and me.

PLACE BIRDS AVOID MENACE TO ARMEN

Mysterious Threat Lingers on Pennsylvania Mount.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Recalling the fact that each year several United States army air service pilots come to grief on the rugged mountain slopes in the vicinity of Lancaster, Pa., scientific investigation to determine whether a deadly airplane menace hangs over that section is to be undertaken by the Pennsylvania State Aeronautical commission.

The investigation is to be made in connection with the work of surveying and routing new airplacess across the Keystone state.

In years gone by, when Langin Field, Mountville, was the midway station on the model airway between Dayton, Ohio, and Washington, the fall and winter was a usual period for crashes in the mountain sections. Almost miraculously the pilots of army planes escaped death one year, when there were no less than nine valuable ships hauled from the mountain recesses as wrecks after the pilots had lost control.

Avoided by Birds.

Many armen assert that a mysterious threat to flying men lingers over sections of the high ridge which separates the seaboard from the vast continent to the west. They point to the deaths of Pilot E. R. Emory of Newark, Ohio, and William D. Zollman, mechanic, of Fredericktown, Ohio, who were killed when their plane, modern in every respect, crashed. Both men tried to jump, but had no time. Their broken bodies were found beside their wrecked plane in the mountain forest.

And the pilots point also to a fact long known to dwellers in the mountains; that there are certain spots birds avoid in their flight. Even in the spring and autumn migrations, when the birds generally fly in a straight airline, they detour from these suspected areas.

"Spotty" Atmosphere.

There may be a key to the conditions when it is established why motorists traveling the National or Lincoln highways over the "Big Fellow" suddenly find their motors stalled. There seems to be a peculiar atmosphere "in spots," unbalanced air probably, or that condition which all research in physics seems to disprove—an atmospheric vacuum.

Aviators may have this same motor trouble over the mountains, it is pointed out, and they talk of the Pennsylvania ridges as of "bad lands" or, in the vernacular of the air, as "bad clouds." A number of machines dependable in every way have crashed in the mountains—they just have dropped.

What did the aviators, who looked death in the face, see? What did they realize in the hurtling flash of their descent in their helpless, slipping planes? If any in that instant comprehended the cause of the disaster, the knowledge died with him. None who fell over the mountain lived to disclose it.

World Is 75,000,000 Years Old, Says Professor

Berkeley, Calif.—How old is the world?

About 6,000 years, according to the account in Genesis.

More than 75,000,000 years, according to three University of California scientists, who have just returned from a geologic survey in Arizona, Utah and Colorado.

The California professors—C. L. Camp, paleontologist; S. C. Pepper of the philosophy department, and James P. Fox, geologist—studied the deep gorges of the Grand canyon and the peculiar geologic formations of Arizona's Painted Desert.

Three fragmentary phytosaur skulls, which they brought back with them, fix the age of the world at more than 75,000,000 years, the professors contend.

The skulls, furthermore, according to the discoverers, show that even at that somewhat remote age the process of evolution was at work.

$250,000 Smuggled in Child's Teddy Bear

Gielwitz, Germany.—How 1,500,000 zloties (Polish national currency), or about $250,000, were smuggled in a large Teddy bear will be told in the courts at Konigsbottel.

Karl Kessler, a Polish postal employee, is charged with having stolen the money from a mail train. He is alleged to have handed it to a married couple named Cieplik. The zloty bills were sewed inside a Teddy bear, with which their little boy was told to play while crossing the frontier by train into Germany. In this way they hoodwinked the customs officials, but at Offenbach, where they tried to change the zloties into other currency, the Cieplik's were arrested, as were also Kessler's brother and a number of accomplices on the German-Polish border.

Kessler, who fled with false passports, was arrested in Bavaria.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

THAT HUMAN WALL

ANYBODY who is experienced in the art of getting through the human wall of subordinates which surrounds most important persons knows two things.

The first is that in six cases out of ten, these subordinates are either arrogant or incompetent.

The second is that subordinates should never be dealt with if their superiors can be reached.

The human wall is necessary or it would not be tolerated. Important people must be protected from timestealers, respectable beggars and cranks. But that does not mean that it is not a cumbersome and annoying affair.

The mere fact that a subordinate is associated with an important person often seems to lend him tremendous importance.

It is his job to keep out undesirables. And he often comes to consider all visitors undesirable.

To deny admission to strangers
seems to augment his own prestige.
He becomes, in his own eyes, a dis-poser of fates and a dispenser of favors.

If you ask him if he thinks his employer will condescend to receive you, he will say "No!" He will also be glad to volunteer any information about the state of his employer's mind.
The information will be of a sort designed to discourage presumption on your part and to glorify the employer and his loyal servant. It will also be inaccurate in four cases out of five.

If a subordinate is not arrogant he is very likely to be incompetent.

He may be pleasant enough but he will not know how to deal with your case. That, however, will not prevent him from making a brave attempt.

Once in a great while you meet a part of one of these human walls who is neither arrogant nor incompetent.
But such persons do not remain a part of the wall. They usually are promoted.

If subordinates realized how little arrogance helped their cause they would put more emphasis on courtesy.

An insolent, overheating manner seldom wins any friends. And you must have business friends if you expect to get ahead.

There are a few geniuses whose talent is so great that they can afford to go through the world antagonizing everybody. But how many of us are geniuses?

An insolent door clerk or secretary serves his employer badly. And occasionally the stranger whom he attempts to snub turns out to be a person of considerable more importance than the man behind the human wall.
In that case it is likely to go hard with the subordinate.

Arrogance may feed a man's ego for a while. But it will nearly always hurt his chances of success in the end.

So much for the arrogant ones. As for the incompetents little need be said. The world doesn't like incompetence much, either.

Must You Be Dummy?

Every time the bridge club meets at your house must you be dummy so that you can run back and forth to the kitchen to get the refreshments properly arranged? Do you fuss and worry over your desserts, wondering how to keep them fresh and appetizing until late afternoon and how to have them ready to serve without your being too long absent in the kitchen? For the hostess who does her own serving such distractions cause her to trump her partner's ace and otherwise throw away perfectly good tricks.

But with Frigidaire in the kitchen the hostess plays the game with the others—with a trick in the offing! Dainties prepared in the morning, placed in the cold, dry atmosphere of this electric refrigerator remain full of flavor and tempting until the last rubber has been played. And there are ice cubes aplenty for sparkling beverages. Frigidaire may be installed for $195.

GREAT PLANS FOR ELKS' ST. PATRICK'S EVE BALL

The house committee of Kingston Lodge, No. 559, B. P. O. E., is aiming to have the St. Patrick's Eve ball that will be held Friday evening, March 16, a bigger success than the Washington Birthday one danced when 185 attended. The assembly hall will again be set in night club style with tables on sides and rear of the floor and cabaret entertainments of high order have been engaged from a New York booking agent. The acts will take place between the dances, making a continuous entertainment. Favors will be distributed. Maiseholder's augmented orchestra will render the dance music and the hall lobbies will be appropriately decorated. The dance will be for the Elks and their invited guests.

16 Pitchers on Senators' Roster

But Two of the Hurlers Have Passed Their 30th Birthday and One Is Just Out of the Gate.

Tempe, Ariz., March 5 (AP).—Although the baseball ghost of Walter Johnson stalks through the training camp of the Washington club, there are 16 pitchers on hand all willing to be the "number one" hurler.

By common consent of the powers that be on the club, where Johnson is more of an institution than a pitcher, no one will be elevated to fill the place Barney left permanently vacant when he went away to manage New York.

As the work proceeds at the first Washington training camp in which the great Johnson has had no active part, the club is preparing to pin its hopes on pitching despite the absence of the big fellow with the terrible "fast one."

Ten of the double-digit pitchers will start the season and Manager Harris and Coach Griffith hope to work out a combination in which young arms will get support from heads who are in baseball.

Only two of the pitchers have passed their 30th birthday and one is just out of the gate.

Sam Jones, 22, Milton Gaston, 20, and Tom Zachary, 19, are the young arms. Zachary, a sensational young pitcher of last season, was sent to the hospital. He will emerge in a few weeks without his appendix but the season will be well advanced before he can pitch. Horace Lisenbee, almost as young and even more sensational than Zachary, is in perfect health and will be able to start.

Fred Marberry, veteran of the staff at 24, in point of consecutive service, although Tom Zachary went away and came back, is confident that he will be graduated from a relief role to a starting status. Garland Braxton will continue to dash in from the bullpen in times of stress. Ed Wells, late of Detroit and Birmingham, may stage a comeback and Van Alstyne, boasting a great curve ball, has a chance to return from his exile to Birmingham last season. Clarence Griffin, a little southpaw, will not be discriminated against on account of his size. President Griffith likes the little fellows on the mound. Once he was a little pitcher and a good one.

There is no chance of a shortage of left-hand pitching talent. In addition to Braxton, Zachary, Wells and Griffin, Bob Burke has been brought over from last year and Lloyd Brown is up from Memphis.

Manager Bucky Harris thinks one way to make the Senators a fighting club is to start a fight at the outset, so in addition to the battle for pitching places, he has declared first base, shortstop and center field wide open to competition.

With George Sisler and Joe Judge, aged but still active first base performers, available, there seems to be a conviction that a trade may yet cause a determination of the over-supply. Neither seems ready to sit on the bench. Sisler apparently is slated to start the season.

Bobby Reeves has the inside track at shortstop. Two other collegians, Grant Gillis and Jack Hayes, both former wearers of the Crimson of Alabama, will be reserve infielders.

A battle for centerfield may continue right through the season between Sam West and Foster Gansel, with Barnes, a third Alabama contribution in reserve. West has shown more speed than Gansel but Washington's "Babe" who comes from a baseball family, is a terrific hitter. Two Southern League recruits, Klotz and Simons, have impressive batting averages and if they fail to stick will be promoted to the minors.

Muddy Ruel and Benny Tate will do most of the catching with the third place going to Pete Cooper, from Birmingham, or Hugh McMullen from Louisville last year, but formerly a major leaguer.

Remembered Famous Jump

Little Kathryn, who was driving through the country with her uncle, claimed that there was nothing to see in the country.

"Why," said her uncle, trying to distract her attention, "see all the pretty cows over in the pasture, and they can't hurt you because there is a fence around them."

Kathryn was silent a moment and then expressed her skepticism. "Huh," she said. "A cow jumped over the moon once, so I don't see why it couldn't jump over a fence."—Children, the Magazine for Parents.

Handy Man

In this changing age of machinery, it has been aptly put by a Manhattan epigrammatist, many hands do not make light work light. The weight of this heavy argument, he points out, lies in the fact that because of modern facilities there no longer is need for the purposeless handy man about the house or factory with his inconsequential and makeshift antics. In a word the walls no longer have just ears but ampers! Electricity is doing the work of 500,000,000 men without losing its temper, its force or its friends.

Pedestrian's Haven

Bermuda is one of the few places in the world where the pedestrian is never wrong. Here he jaywalks at will and woe befalls the bicyclist or the carriage driver who infringes on his freedom. The laws of the island require that all vehicles, including bicycles, must give right of way to foot passengers, no matter on which side of the road they may be walking. The rule of the road is the opposite from what it is in America.—Bermuda Dispatch.

Blackburne Bats 1000 but Name Is Omitted

The Boston American League batting averages omitted mention of the real batting leader of the league because of the "blackballing" which takes place upon a player who gets into the record books. Blackburne ("Lena") Blackburne, years ago a White Sox player and now a coach on the club, finished the season with a batting mark of 1000 per cent perfect. A base hit was sadly needed one day last summer and Blackburne stepped up to the plate and delivered it, sending home a runner from second with a "Texas leaguer" back of first base. His one swing at the ball, his only one of the season, was not enough to get him into the official figures.

Brains Vs. Brawn In American Race

New York, March 5 (AP).—Brains vs. brawn. That's the main prospect in this year's American League race.

The Athletics have baseball brains; plus lined up for the tussle with the brawn of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and the rest of the Yankee clubbers.

So far the elemental forces of the Yankees have proved a little too strong for baseball's best minds. Babe Ruth's big bat has outwitted many a master mind, including that of John McGraw.

The Athletics combine more diamond experience this season than probably any club in history, not excepting the fabled Orioles, the Cubs or Frank Chance's day or the Mackmen themselves of the 1910-1914 era.

The two chief strategists alone aggregate 125 years. Connie Mack, oldest of major league pilots, is 60 and his first lieutenant, Kid Gleason, is still a kid at 52.

Then there is Jack Quinn, the veteran pitcher, 42 and the oldest player in either league, ready for his twenty-fifth year of baseball. Jack has spent 15 of these seasons under the big top.

The big three of the last quarter-century of American League all-around stardom—Eddie Collins, Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker—add their wisdom and ability to the Philadelphia cast. Eddie is about out of the competitive picture. He is being groomed as Mack's successor. But Ty and Tris have many a single left in their bats. All are 40 or over.

This will be Cobb's 24th season. Speaker's 23rd and Collins' 21st in the big show.

Jimmy Dukes, Eddie Rommel and Cy Perkins, other members of Mack's machine, all have been in the majors ten years ago.

WILBUR QUINTELL BEAT CHICHESTER FIVE, 43-29.

Chichester, March 5.—The Chichester basketball team closed its season on its home court Friday night. In this final game the local quintet suffered its second defeat of the winter. The Wilbur team won the contest by the decisive score of 43 to 29. The first half ended with Chichester leading by one point, the score being 13 to 12. The game was fast and exciting, but extremely rough, particularly in the second half. Because of disputes three referees had turns at officiating. In the first half Jorje was held without a field and Merritt caged only one. In the second half, however, these forwards put the ball through the hoop several times, making difficult shots. Hyatt was the high scorer of the evening with 15 points to his credit. Zimmerman caged 14 for the locals, and Jorje and Merritt each registered 12.

In the preliminary game the Lindy Five Girls' team defeated the Wilbur Girls' team, the score being 27 to 6.

Red Grange's Old Mate

Now Serving as Mentor

Russell (Pug) Dougherty, former football teammate of "Red" Grange at Illinois, has just become coach of basketball at Rice Institute at Houston.

Dougherty made a name for himself in football as well as basketball at Illinois, where he was graduated last June as a bachelor of science in physical education. As a back-field running mate of Grange, Dougherty did some of the blocking and interfering that cleared the path for Grange's sensational dashes. In 1925 he scooped up a fumble and ran 55 yards to defeat Chicago by 7 to 0.

In basketball Dougherty led the Big Ten in scoring and was unanimous choice for All-Western conference forward.

EAST FAILS TO GET GOLF GAMES

Chicago Is Allotted Many Interesting Tournaments.

It has been many a long year since the eastern section of the United States was awarded so few big golf tournaments. And practically all of the tournaments have been awarded to the amateur.

The amateur goes to Brue Burn near Boston; the open is to be played at Olympia fields, near Chicago; the international matches for the Walker cup will be played at Wheaton. The solons have sent the women's national into the sticks—to Hot Springs—and there's no chance of getting the P. G. A.

All of which leaves the metropolitan district, the largest section in the United States, with no prominent tournaments except its own local events, the Metropolitan Amateur and open. This condition presages a rather dull tournament season in these parts, but, if it does nothing else, it means a lot of action around Boston and Chicago.

It is doubtful if any section ever had as many interesting events as falls to the lot of Chicago this summer. The Open, the Walker Cup, the Western Open, Western A. tour, Western Women's and a flock of other events—that is unprecedented. It seems as if a determined attempt is being made to entice Chicago golfers. Or else the solons aim to stimulate interest to fever pitch. It is doubtful which of the two is correct. Nevertheless, the Chicago district is to be rich in tournaments.

Thus far the only event on the horizon in the East is the New York State Amateur, an interesting affair, but by no means a major event. The public links championship is to be played on the famous Cobble Creek layout, near Philadelphia, but that still is not in the metropolitan district.

From 1905, when the first official amateur championship was held at Newport, until 1906 some 35 events were played and all but nine were held in the East, around New York, Philadelphia or Boston. However, since 1906 there has been a change of venue. The West, principally Chicago, has held just as many tournaments of national importance as the metropolitan district.

Jockey in Limelight

Riding with the reckless abandon of his forefathers, an Indian jockey has crashed into the limelight of the Tia Juana racetrack. He is Jockey J. Frye, a full-blooded Klamath Indian who lives in Myrtle Point, Ore. The other day Jockey Frye, riding his first winner, piloted the two-year-old Valucia to its "maiden" victory.

Nemo Leibold Only

New A. A. Manager

With one exception, all of the A. A. teams will face the barrier in April with the same leadership as in 1927. The change is at Columbus, where no season is complete without one to three pilots—Nemo Leibold, succeeding Ivy Wingo.

The others are lined up this way: Jack Leibelt, Milwaukee; Nick Allen, St. Paul; Mike Keller, Minneapolis; Dutch Zwilling, Kansas City; Casey Stengel, Toledo; Bill Meyer, Louisville; Bruno Ratzel, Indianapolis.

Jack Delaney to Train by Continued Fighting

Jack Delaney is going to do his training in the heavyweight campaign against active opponents in the roped arena, Joe Jacobs, his manager, declared.

"Delaney figures he can keep in better condition by taking on one opponent a week than if he settled down in any training camp," Jacobs said. "Jack is willing to battle on the basis of a fight a week."

Numerous opponents are in prospect for the Bridgeport, including the rugged Jack Renault, who may be secured for a bout at St. Louis.

'FASTEST HUMAN' BECOMES AUTHOR

Another victory is chalked up for Charley Paddock, the "Fastest Human," as he makes his famous flying leap through the tape. Three ordinary steps are saved in this jump which won the 100 and 220-yard dashes at Los Angeles Athletic Club meet. Paddock soon leaps into another field—he will write his own series of articles on the American Olympic team and the events of the Olympic at Amsterdam.

WEST POINT ARTILLERY LOST TO CHANDLERS

At the Y. M. C. A. court Saturday night the Chandlers downed the West Point Artillery, 51-12.

Matthews caged a foul and Barnes found the hoop once from scrumming, which started the army quintet scoring. The Chandlers could not find the basket at the beginning but in the second quarter they rallied, and when the time for the half was up the Chandlers were well in front, 25-6.

In the third quarter the Chandlers held their opponents scoreless. The losers managed to collect six points in the final period while the Chandlers doubled their score adding 26 points. Most of West Point's baskets were made by long shots. Bliss was leading scorer for the Chandlers with 16, while Barnes collected seven points for the West Point team.

FOX CHASE TO START SPRING SPORTS PROGRAM

A big fox chase will start the spring sports of the Dutchess County Hunting-Dog Club on March 11. The chase will be held on the Poughkeepsie-Pleasant Valley Road, about three miles east of Poughkeepsie. The chase will be open to the public and all Ulster county sportsmen are invited to enter hounds in the big spring fox chase. There will be a first, second and third prize. It is expected that there will be many entries and that the public will attend in large numbers. Those who wish to enter dogs may communicate with Willis H. Plenzig, 491 Church street, Poughkeepsie.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 5 (AP)—Violent bidding for the common stock of the General Motors Corporation, which was run up nearly 4 points to another new high record at 148, on an enormous turnover, again monopolized speculative interest in today's stock market. With General Motors, U. S. Steel common and American Can in the forefront of a broad advance, the general market showed signs of breaking out of the narrow trading area within which it has been fluctuating for the past month or so.

General Motors continued to respond to predictions of record-breaking first quarter earnings. Several of the other motors followed in its wake, notably Willys Overland common and preferred, which also reached new high ground for the year. DuPont, which has large General Motors holdings jumped 9 points to 142, or within 2 points of the record high for all time.

U. S. Steel common, after a slow start, moved up nearly 3 points to 143 by early afternoon. Gulf and Sloss Steel common and Colorado Fuel and Iron common also moved up 2 points to 79 1/2.

Lowering of the renewal rate on call money from 4 1/2 to 4 1/4 per cent had a bullish effect on sentiment. Banks called about $71,000,000 in loans during the morning but there appeared to be a plentiful supply of funds on hand. Time money rates were unchanged.

OIL ROUTS WOLF FROM RANCH DOOR

Owner Once Offered 26,000 Acres at $3 Each.

San Angelo, Texas.—The wolf of want that had pursued Ira G. Yates, aged ranchman, since he was a lad of twelve seemed very close last fall when Yates tried to sell his ranch at $3 an acre and failed.

A mortgage of $90,000 hung over the property of the seventy-six-year-old ranch owner and he had hoped to meet this by selling his 26,000 acres and his cattle.
And now the land that Ira Yates could not sell has made him a millionaire. Engineers say that there are 275,000 barrels of oil under his land.

Yates liquidated the debt that had loomed so large merely by leasing a small part of his real estate to an oil company. Then he sat back and let the oil companies bid against each other for the drilling rights on the rest of the land—no longer the Yates ranch, but now the Yates oil field.

Cattle and sheep no longer roam over the mesas and through the ravines, for the oil ranchman fears that an oil derrick might fall and kill some of the animals.

But he is a ranchman still. He has bought a ranch of 23,000 acres in central Texas and moved his herds there. There is no mortgage over the new ranch and he hopes that he never may be compelled to offer his property at $3 an acre.

"Creditors used to be after me for money," said Yates as he mused on the changes that have occurred. "Now a lot of people try to get money from me, but it's a different sort of demand."

This is the first time, he added, that he has been "ahead of the wolf" since he was left an orphan at the age of twelve.

Must Put U. S. A. After a Ph. D. in Prussia

Berlin.—College graduates who earned their Ph. D. at an American university must, if they wish to use their title in Prussia, either call themselves "Dr. Phil. in U. S. A." or obtain a special permission recognizing the foreign title. This was recently decided by the Berlin courts.

There is a law on the statute books which prescribes that all Prussian citizens who obtained an academic degree outside of Prussia may attach the degree to their names only if the ministry of education issues a special permit so to do.

A graduate of an American university had failed to obtain the permission and was therefore haled into court. Fortunately, however, he could prove that he had always signed himself as "Dr. Phil. in U. S. A." The court decided that, so long as the foreign origin was clearly indicated, there was no legal objection to using the title.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized on Sunday, February 25, at three o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Deitz, when their daughter, Beatrice, was united in marriage to Carl Brown of this city. The Rev. Ernest Rejth, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, officiating. Amid about 50 relatives and friends the bridal party entered the living room to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Evelyn Kurtz, cousin of the bride. The bride looked charming in a gown of pink georgette and carried white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Charlotte Mericle, was attired in yellow georgette. The groom's attendant was Raymond Boice. After the wedding ceremony a reception was held and congratulations and best wishes showered on the happy couple.

Radel, 148 Hudson street, bringing with them an array of pretty and useful gifts for Miss Marguerite. During the late afternoon and evening games were played and prizes awarded the winners. Songs and dance numbers were rendered by the Misses Malyer, Herrick, Heltzmann, Conroy and D. Smith. Katherine Cannon proved herself an able elocutionist by reciting two very pleasing poems. ## Orchard Information

PLAN TO CONTROL PEACH-LEAF CUR.

To control peach leaf curl, the trees must be sprayed before the buds start to swell, advises A. Freeman Mason, fruit specialist at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture, New Brunswick.

When the buds are ready to start growth, the spores of the disease-causing fungus are ready to infect them; hence, if spraying is delayed it will be of no avail. Use the dormant spray consisting of commercial concentrated lime-sulphur diluted one part to nine parts of water, or home-made concentrated lime-sulphur diluted to a specific gravity of 1.03 Baume. Either of these mixtures will also control San Jose scale. If the orchardist is certain that no San Jose scale exists on his premises the dilution may be one part of commercial lime-sulphur to fifteen of water, or 4-5-50 Bordeaux mixture may be used.

Thoroughness is essential in spraying for peach leaf curl. The tips of the twigs must be coated on all sides. If control is to be expected. Spraying each side of the tree with a change of wind is effective, providing every portion of the tree is covered, but if the tree is sprayed at one operation, the work must be done "against the wind," so that the lee sides of the twigs will be coated.

Oil sprays are not recommended, for they are generally much less effective than either concentrated lime-sulphur or Bordeaux mixture in controlling peach leaf curl.

Plan to Prune Grapes

in February and March

Careful pruning of the young grapevine is necessary for the development of a vigorous, productive bearing plant, says J. H. Clark of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. Pruning should be done during February or early March while the vines are still entirely dormant.

When pruning the average one-year-old vine, all but the one most vigorous cane should be removed. This one cane is then cut back to two buds. At this time or soon afterwards a heavy stake five to six feet high should be driven beside each plant. The canes are tied to this stake as a support during the summer.

By pruning time the second year, one of the canes should be long enough so that it can be pruned off near the top of the stake. All other canes should be removed. During the following summer this trunk will produce several side canes. Usually four of these are left at the pruning given after the third growing season, each being cut back to four or five buds.

At this time, the vines are ready for training on a trellis. The Kniffin trellis is the best for Eastern grapes. It consists of two wires, one at a height of about three feet from the ground, the other about two feet from the first and directly above it. One of the canes is tied in each direction on each wire.

Spraying for San Jose

During Dormant Season

The time to spray for San Jose scale is in the dormant season—when the leaves are off the trees. Lime-sulphur is the old standby for spraying San Jose scale, but of late years lime-sulphur has not given entire satisfaction partly because in some localities the insect apparently has become resistant to it, partly because of lack of thorough spraying, improper dilutions and the application of insufficient amounts of material per tree, says the Farm Journal.

On old rough-barked apple trees, oil emulsions, applied while trees are dormant, are apt to be more effective. In the Middle West, the boiled emulsion of lubricating oil, particularly of the red engine oils, is being widely used with considerable success.

Horticultural Hints

Planting should be done as early in the spring as the soil can be worked into good condition.

Sweet and sour cherries are equally susceptible to disease, but care must be exercised in spraying sweet cherries as they are subject to burning with lime-sulphur.

Plants should be ordered soon for spring delivery. In case they arrive before planting time, the bundles should be loosened up and heeled in a trench until the soil is in condition to plant.

As spring is the best season of the year to detect the crown borer, all growers should examine their orchards carefully.

Raspberries should be planted in rows six feet apart and four feet apart in the row; blackberries are planted in rows eight feet apart and the plants five or six feet apart in the row; strawberries in rows four feet apart and twelve to eighteen inches apart in the row; currants and gooseberries are set five feet each way.

Useless Baggage

The trouble with many people, says a great scientist, is that they spend too much time "packing trunks" they cannot take with them and that would contain few useful things if they did.
